Thesis

Title	: Isolation and Characterization of Endophytic Fungi for the Potential Production of Biopesticide Green Compound.
Research descriptions	: To isolate the endophytic fungi from the roots of Piper nigrum L. using the surface sterilization methods. Identification of the isolated fungi was successfully identified morphologically and molecularly. Three plant pathogens were analysed for their antagonistic activity with the isolated fungi. I also run the hydrolytic enzymes assays such as amylase, lipase, protease and chitinase test. Most of the fungi showed positive amylase and protease result but none was detected for positive lipase and chitinase test.
