Final Year Project Summary:

Title: A Study of Compressive and Impact Properties of Jute Laminate Structure Composite

My final year project is about study the effect of using different core of material in fabricating a sandwich panel composite structure. Sandwich specimen was fabricated in the configuration of Jute/Epoxy and different type of care which is Honeycomb Nomex, Polyvinyl Chloride (PVC), Polyethylene Terephthalate (PET) and Medium Density Fibreboard (MDF). The aim of this research is to evaluate the mechanical behavior of sandwich panel composite with different core material by conducting a low velocity impact test and flexural test.
